

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Bethany Sanderson since 1999. She was first introduced to me as a junior high school student leader at Algoma Christian School. She participated in various activities (journalism, yearbook, basketball, Bible study, etc) where her well thought out viewpoints were refreshing and original. Her sense of humor, confidence and frequent challenges to the status quo (though she was respectful when she did it) evolved thru out her time at Algoma. Looking back, it is amazing to observe the beginnings of integrity, patience and honesty in her character.

She is a proven scholar with trustworthy instincts, quick to embrace new ideas and a facilitator between generations. Her work ethic was enjoyable to observe and also to partner with. I volunteered in several different capacities within the school (Long term Development Committee, Golf Classic Chair, Golf Coach, Reality Store Instructor, and Newsletter Editor). After her graduation, I called on Bethany to assist in publication of a new school newsletter. She quickly agreed to assist, and from there became the photographer and illustrator for the newsletter. In the process, she taught me the software, handled many long distance panic calls to “undo” the damage I had wrought, and kept up a steady stream of positive encouragement.

I am always grateful to work with students, even more so when they mature into adults that show good team building characteristics, maturity, innovative thinking processes and an aptitude for embracing the technology of the future.

I heartily recommend Bethany for any job position she chooses because I know her originality, humor, work ethic and “smarts” will serve her well in the years to come.

Sincerely,
